Bike Movement

Programs for cyclists

It is a website of a program that offers facilities for employees and employers who use bicycles to go to work. The main functions of the webpage are: contact, how to find teachers to help on learning to cycle, and information about how to take good care of bikes.

It is a website of a volunteer network that offers classes of bike maintenance (for communities or one person), repair service for companies, and sale of recycled second hand bikes. The website also works as a showroom of the services and contact.

It is the official website for the bike system available on Dublin streets. The website contains information about how it works and all the benefits of the service.

It is a Dublin City Council project led by dublin.ie and Roads & Traffic Department. The website offers information about cycling in Dublin, cycling maps, public bike scheme, and safe cycling.
